WARRANTY REGISTRATION

Upon delivery of the Product to Client (or its preferred carrier) Client has seven (7) calendar days to evaluate all contents inside the shipment for any damage and register the product to activate the Limited Warranty. The Limited Warranty WILL ONLY be activated if the Product was delivered, Client acknowledges that all merchandise is defect-free within the first seven (7) calendar days of delivery of the shipment, Client has paid in full all amounts it owes Panda, and if Client fully executes and returns this Registration Form within said seven (7) days. If Client does find damaged contents within the first seven (7) calendar days of accepting the shipment, Client must provide within the same seven (7) days, written objections and photo and video evidence specifying which systems are damaged. The failure to provide the objections and evidence within the seven (7) days will void all warranties. Upon receipt of the objections, photo and video evidence and if applicable, submission of a claim to the insurance company (unless Client has picked up the Product or used its preferred delivery service), and upon confirmation it was at fault, Panda will begin production of new systems to replace the damaged systems. The same requirements for payment in full, acceptance, inspection and registration of the Product applies to any replacement systems. Notwithstanding the above, if Client picks the Product up at Panda's loading dock, (i) before taking delivery Client (or its preferred carrier) shall inspect the packaging for any visible damage, and if there is any, refuse acceptance, and (ii) by loading the crates onto its carrier Client accepts delivery and waives any right to damages from, or for further inspection for, visible damages. To make a claim that the Product was damaged prior to Client's pickup other than for damage visible on pickup, Client must provide within seven (7) days of pick up, written objections and video and photo evidence of the packaging prior to opening the crates evidencing that the Product was not damaged during Client's (or its preferred carrier's) shipment to the jobsite. The failure to do so within said time will void all warranties.

WARRANTY COVERAGE

The limited warranties for Panda Products are set forth in the Panda Doors & Windows Limited Warranty ("Warranty"). By executing and returning this Warranty Registration Form, Client acknowledges its receipt, review, understanding and agreement to the limited warranties and remedies contained in the Warranty. Client acknowledges that the Product is made up of component parts and as to such parts manufactured by others, such as the glass, Panda makes no warranty to such component, rather Panda's sole obligation is to pass on to the end user whatever warranty such manufacturer offers on its component parts.
